Dying of Famine

is, in its torments, like dying of consumption. The progress of consumption, from the beginning to the very end, is a long torture both to victim and friends. "When I had consumption in its first stage," writes Wm. Myers of Cardiff, Md., "after trying different medicines and a good doctor in vain I at last took Dr. King's New Discovery, which quickly and perfectly cured me." Prompt relief and sure cure for coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchitis, etc. Positively prevents pneumonia. Guaranteed at the Red Cross Pharmacy. Guaranteed at the Red Cross Pharmacy and Parlor Drug Store. Prices, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Trial bottle free.

HOW "CY" YOUNG WAS FOUND.

Story Told by One Who Claims Honor of Coaxing Him From the Bushes.

Tens of thousands of fans—yes, hundreds of thousands, if not millions—know old "Cy" Young of the Boston Americans better than they know their neighbors, yet it may be hazarded few of them are aware how he got into the game. There's a chap in Toledo named John L. Mooreland, who claims credit for introducing "Cy" to the baseball world. Like Lincoln, young Denton Young was in the thin end of the lumber trade when he was discovered—that is to say he was splitting rails for a living. How he developed from a rail-splitter to a plate-splitter is worth reading. Here is Mooreland's own version of the great event, which he is prepared to back with an affidavit of 40-notary power.

"I am the man who coaxed Denton Young out of the bushes," he asserts, "I took the Canton team down to Tuscarawas, and we were stacked against 'Cy.' He was a great big country lad, 18 years old, with a world of speed and nothing else. He was drawing about $10 a month for splitting wood, and I thought I saw qualities in him that could be developed. 'There's a boy,' said I to 'Cy's' father, 'who ought to be playing ball. He can make more money than if he stayed here and chopped wood all his life. There is no reason why he should not be making $30 a month.' The elder Young gasped and asked, 'Will you pay him that much?' I said I would. So 'Cy's' father signed his first contract for him and I took him away.

"In his first game against Lima, I believe, those old fellows hammered something like two dozen hits off 'Cy,' and that night I discovered my phenom leaving his hotel with his grip—one of those old-fashioned, shiny affairs. I flagged him. He was discouraged. 'No use for me to try to pitch against those fellows,' he said. 'Why, my boy, I told him, 'that is nothing. All pitchers get their bumps. You stick and you'll make good all right.' I called on 'Jack' Doyle to help round him up, and giving Bauswine the wink, asked, 'George, how many hits were made off you in your first game?' 'About 60,' he said without a blush, and thus we finally persuaded 'Cy' to take another shy at the game, and the next day he held Lima down to four hits. When 'Pat' Tebeau of Cleveland came along later and clapped his eyes on 'Cy' he offered me $250 for his release after he had beaten Cleveland 2 to 1 in a 15-inning game. I wanted $1,000, and finally compromised on $500. That is the true story of 'Cy' Young's entrance into baseball."

REAL WAR ON RACE TRACKS?

Folk Says Missouri National Guard May Move on Delmar.

Jefferson City, Mo., June 25.—Governor Folk, in an interview Monday declared that either the Missouri National Guard or the St. Louis police department would be directed within the next twenty-four hours to raid the alleged bookmakers at Delmar racetrack. The governor has discovered that section 14 of the St. Louis charter gives the city of St. Louis the same powers in the county as in the city. Governor Folk and President Stewart of the St. Louis Police Board, held a long conversation over the long-distance telephone Monday. President Stewart assured the governor that if the section of the charter referred to was still in force, a detail of policemen, under command of Chief Kieley would be at once dispatched to St. Louis County to arrest the alleged racetrack gamblers. The militia or police, whichever may be used, will be instructed to enforce the anti-gambling law at all hazards.

St. Louis, June 28.—Sheriff Herpel placed Charles Colla under arrest at Delmar racetrack Monday, during the first race, on the charge of having violated the anti-betting law. At once all operations in the betting ring ceased, and no bets on the second race were made.

ROBBERY DURING CIRCUS PARADE

Thief Enters J. J. Kennedy's Store, Burlington, and Steals $165 in Cash.—No Clue to Identity.

Burlington, June 28.—One of the boldest daylight robberies ever committed in Burlington was perpetrated yesterday morning when somebody tore off the screen to the back window of James J. Kennedy's fruit and vegetable store at 151 Cherry street during the circus parade and robbed the cash register and safe of $165. All the doors of the store were locked at the time, and the thief made good his escape.

The robbery was committed about 11 o'clock. Mr. Kennedy locked the front and back doors, and with the people in his employ went out to Church street. Unluckily he did not think to lock the safe, and the wonder of it is he made no noise. The thief made his entrance from the rear of the store through a high window which required his standing on a barrel. He tore a screen which was across the window, got down inside the store, took out $30 or $40 of cash in the cash register in plain sight of the front window, then helped himself to what was in the safe, taking considerably over $100 in cash, the bank book, with some checks in it, etc. He left a money order on the floor. The total stolen in cash amounted to $165. A large part of the money in the safe represented cash for sales yesterday. Mr. Kennedy intended to make a deposit in the bank yesterday but it rained and he postponed it.

Mr. Kennedy says he does not have any idea who took the money, but is inclined to think it was somebody who was acquainted with the premises. Whoever it was pacified the dog who was tied to the safe and it is a fact that no stranger can go to the safe when the dog is about. The matter is in the hands of the police.

H. W. COMSTOCK IN JAIL.

Man Who Said He Lost $120,000 Accused by Woman.

Boston, June 28.—Henry W. Comstock, the wealthy mine operator, who recently reported to the police that he had been robbed of securities valued at $120,000 from a Fall River boat, was held for the grand jury yesterday on the charge of larceny of two $1,000 bonds. Bail was fixed at $5,000. He said that he would make no endeavor to secure bondsmen, and he was committed to jail. Mrs. Cora Frothingham of Altam is the complainant in the case.

GRANITEVILLE.
